WORKERS FROM ACROSS CLINTON COUNTY ENDORSE CHRIS ROSENQUEST

Plattsburgh — CSEA Local 884 and SEIU 1199 North Country have endorsed Chris Rosenquest for Clinton County Legislature, Area 9. CSEA Local 884 and SEIU 1199 North Country have a combined local membership of over 3000 members within Clinton County.

“Endorsements, especially from two of the most respected and involved groups representing working families across Clinton County is an acknowledgement of what I believe in: improved quality of life and the ability of our business community to create living-wage opportunities throughout Clinton County. As a business owner and advisor, endorsements by CSEA Local 884 and SEIU 1199 North Country speaks volumes to the results I’ve produced that have helped create jobs in Clinton County,” says Rosenquest

Dylan Smith, 1199SEIU administrative organizer said, “Chris supports the struggle of low-wage workers to improve their lives. Hundreds of these jobs are held by home health aides, home attendants, and CVPH hospital workers, who can barely make ends meet for their families.”

“CSEA is endorsing Chris Rosenquest for Clinton County Legislator based on his engagement within the community, as seen by the several service projects with which he has been involved through the years, his continued commitment to diversity, and his experience as a small business owner,” adds Joe Musso, President - CSEA Local 884

Rosenquest is a Business Advisor with the Small Business Development Center and he and his wife, Tracy Vicory-Rosenquest, own Conroys Organics. “At Conroys our hourly team members automatically receive paid sick time and along with our salaried employees receive other employee benefits. Quality of life of the team members in my own business and throughout the county is very important to me,” said Rosenquest.

Clinton County Legislative Area 9 is a district that is fully within the City of Plattsburgh covering all of Ward 3 and parts of Wards 1, 2, and 6. Former Plattsburgh High School principal, Dr. John Gallagher currently holds the seat, but is unable to run due to term limitations.
